Greyhound Basketball

By Karmyn Gray

Basketball season at Sloan-Hendrix is well under way this year. As tournament time draws closer, the games are becoming more and more intense and the Hounds are turning up the heat.

This has been one of the best seasons in senior high boys' basketball that Sloan-Hendrix has had in a while, their record being 20-3 as of January 18. The boys not only have had a great season but they have also had an exciting one, winning the Williams Baptist Tournament for the first time since 1976. Colby Johnson and Tyler Murphy were named to the All-Tournament team at the Williams Baptist Tournament. The NEA Tournament took place over Christmas break. For his performance during the games, Hunter Stallings was chosen to be a Division I NEA All-Tournament Team member. The community and students are very hopeful for the Hounds as district play winds down.

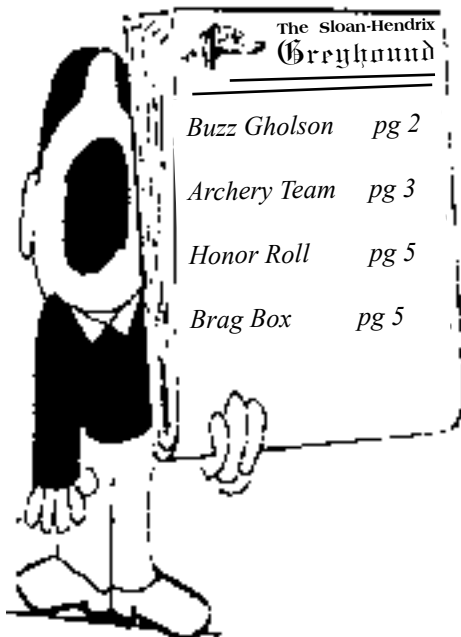

Even though the senior girls have not had a standout season, Hound fans are still cheering them on. The Lady Greyhounds are

On Saturday, December 3, the Sloan-Hendrix Greyhounds defeated the Riverside Rebels to win the Williams Baptist College high school basketball tournament. The Greyhounds had a tough battle as Riverside jumped out to a 22-2 lead. The Hounds managed to come back within four points by the half. With a Greyhound lead of three points, Riverside scored and stole for a chance to score again, but a traveling violation gave Sloan-Hendrix the ball. Sloan-Hendrix held on for its sixth WBC championship and the first since 1976. Hunter Stallings was leading scorer with 16 points. Other players in double figures included Braden Brand (13), Colby Johnson (12), and Tyler Murphy (10). Jacob Smith had 15 rebounds and 8 points.

Receiving all-tournament team honors were Colby Johnson and Tyler Murphy. Congratulations, Greyhounds!

Buzz Gholson Nominated to Science/Technology Congress

Peyton (Buzz) Gholson, of Pocahontas, a Freshman at Sloan-Hendrix is a Delegate of the Congress of Future Science and Technology Leaders in Lowell, MA on June 29th - July 1st, 2017.

The Congress is an honors only program for high school students who are passionate about science, technology, engineering or mathematics (STEM). The purpose of this event is to honor, inspire, motivate and direct the top students in the country who aspire to be scientists and technologists, to stay true to their dream and, after the event, to provide a path, plan and resources to help them reach their goal.

Buzz was nominated by Dr. John C. Mather, winner of the Nobel Prize in Physics and Science Director of the National Academy of Future Scientists and Technologists to represent Sloan Hendrix High School based on his academic achievement, leadership potential and passion for science and technology.

During the three-day Congress, Buzz will join students from across the country and hear Nobel Laureates and National Medal of Science recipients talk about leading scientific research; be given advice from deans of the world's top tech universities; be inspired by fellow teen science prodigies; and learn about cutting edge advances and the future of science and technology.

"This is a crucial time in America when we need more nimble-minded and creative scientists and technologists who are even better prepared for a future that is changing exponentially," said Richard Rossi, Executive Director, National Academy of Future Scientists and Technologists. "Focused, bright and determined students like Peyton (Buzz) Gholson are our future and he deserves all the mentoring and guidance we can give him."

The Academy offers free services and programs to students who have the desire to learn more about their future in science or technology. Some of the services and programs the Academy offers include online social networks through which future scientists and technologists can communicate; opportunities for students to be guided and mentored by tech and science leaders; and communications for parents and students on college acceptance and finances, skills acquisition, internships, career guidance and much more.

The Academy was founded on the belief that science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) education plays a critical role in enabling the United States to remain the economic and technological leader of the global marketplace of the 21st century and that we must identify prospective talent at the earliest possible age and help these students acquire the necessary experience and skills to take them to the doorstep of vital careers. Based in Washington, DC, and with an office in Boston, MA, the Academy was chartered as a nonpartisan, taxpaying institution to help address this crisis by working to identify, encourage and mentor students who wish to devote their lives to advances in society as scientists, technologists, engineers and mathematicians.

Rorex Claims Division Title

Hudson Rorex, a third grade student at Sloan-Hendrix Elementary, recently won the 8-9 year-old division of the Highland Elks Hoop Shoot. He will compete in the Elks Club State Hoop Shoot on February 4, in Hot Springs.

Grammar Guide

When To Use - to, two, too

A homophone is a word that is pronounced the same as another word, but differs in meaning and may differ in spelling. Many people are confused about when to use each word.

The word to is used to express motion or direction, a limit, contact or contiguity, a point of limit in time, aim, purpose, intention, and destination.

The word two is used to express a numeric value.

The word too means in addition, furthermore, moreover, an excessive extent or degree, beyond what is fitting desirable or right, more than should be, as an affirmative to contradict a negative comment, and extremely, very.

He took a cab to the cafe. To expresses destination.

Sam ate two hamburgers. Two expresses how many hamburgers.

That is too many! Too describes the excess.

Mr. and Miss Selected

Congratulations to Kierce Due and Makenzie Rone for being named Mr. and Miss SHHS. They were selected by high school staff on the basis of character, integrity, academic achievement, and extra-curricular involvement.

Colby Johnson and Alexandra Gott were first runners up. Colton Dail and Cortney Winston were second runners up.

A full article will appear in the next issue of The Greyhound.

SH Students Give the Gift of Life

On Tuesday, January 11, a Red Cross Blood Drive was held on the campus of Sloan-Hendrix. Besides helping to alleviate a blood shortage, each unit collected at Sloan-Hendrix increases the amount of a scholarship to be awarded to a member of the class of 2017.

There was a good turnout and approximately 22 units were collected. A big thank you to everyone who supported the efforts of the Red Cross and to Mrs. McCormic for coordinating the drive.

Aaron and Hunter come through unscathed.

Fall Art Show

Student artwork was recently on display during the fall art show. Some of the subject matter included the color wheel and triptychs. Elementary students used oil pastels to tell a family story. The artwork was on display in the gymnasium. Mrs. Watson is the art teacher.

Above: Students walked around campus taking pictures and then used graphite to compose triptychs from their original photographs.

Bethany DeShazo, Matthew Frazier, and Blazey Rose view student artwork.

Archery Team Visits Lake Charles

On Wednesday, January 18 and Thursday, January 19, the junior and senior archery teams visited the archery range at Lake Charles to prepare for upcoming meets. Besides sharpening their skills, team members enjoyed a hot dog lunch at the park. Coach for the team is Coach Foreman.

Girls Earn Awards

The Sloan-Hendrix Lady Greyhounds have earned two sportsmanship awards this season. During the Williams Baptist high school basketball tournament they were awarded the sportsmanship trophy and they received the Paul Hoffman Sportsmanship Award at the NEA Invitational Tournament. These honors are a reflection of their sense of fair play and good manners on the court. They also indicate the importance of these qualities to their coaches, Coach Moore and Coach Brand. Without their encouragement and direction, these awards might not belong to the Lady Hounds.

Congratulations to the team and the coaches!

Named to NEA Tournament Team Doney and Stallings

At the 2016 NEA Invitational Tournament, Annie Doney and Hunter Stallings were chosen Division I All Tournament Team members. It is quite an honor and a testament to their hard work on the court. Congratulations, Annie and Hunter!

currently fighting for a chance to be conference runners up. This year the team competed in the Williams Baptist Tournament, losing a tough match during the first round to Corning. Caylea Johnson was chosen to be a part of the Williams Baptist All-Tournament Team. The Lady Hounds also took part in the NEA Tournament and won their first game but unfortunately lost their second game to Izard County. Annie Doney was chosen to be a Division I NEA All-Tournament Team member. At both the Williams Baptist and the NEA, the Sloan-Hendrix Lady Greyhounds were chosen for the sportsmanship award. As the season continues, the Lady Hounds are sure to show what they can do on the court as these final games approach.

Tournament season is going to be kicked off at the Lawrence County Tournament at Hoxie beginning on January 28. All teams will be participating. The Junior High District Tournament will start February 6 and will be held at Sloan-Hendrix. The Senior High District Tournament will begin February 13 at Cotter. Regional Tournament play begins on February 22 at Carlisle, followed by the State Tournament on February 28 at Quitman. Hopefully a Greyhound team will be at those tourneys as well.

Eighth Grade Records Podcasts

Mr. Griffin's eighth grade class has been recording book talks. The process has been rather eye-opening for the students and enlightening as well. Each student must write, record, and edit the audio. They must then turn it into a video featuring rolling text, illustrations, titles, and background music. Who knew that so much effort went into preparing an oral report?!

The subject matter is a recently read book. The students share just enough of the story line to encourage others to read it.

Their video podcasts will be placed on the school web page upon completion. Look for Podcasts in the upper right corner.

Garrett Reese carefully records his book talk.

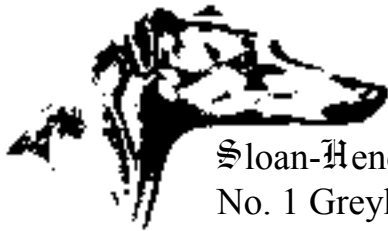

Nathan Lepard, and Hailey McIntare wait their turn while Samantha Clay records her podcast.

Worried about your grades?! Try some of these tips:

1. Manage your time; don't procrastinate.
2. Organize; use a journal, planner.
3. Get some sleep; without your phone!
4. Attend class (duh) and take good notes (study them)!
5. Ask questions.
6. Study with a group.
