Odyssey of the Mind Team Headed to Nationals

On April 7, 2018, two Sloan-Hendrix teams traveled to George Junior High School in Springdale, Arkansas, to participate in State Odyssey of the Mind. "Odyssey of the Mind is an international creative problem-solving program that engages students in their learning by allowing their knowledge and ideas to come to life in an exciting, productive environment. Participants build self-confidence, develop life skills, create new friendships, and are able to recognize and explore their true potential. OotM proves that students can have fun while they learn." (Odysseyofthemind.com)

Odyssey of the Mind team members: Addison Doney, Arrisa White, Dalton Cooper, and Keeley Dean.

The 7th/8th grade team placed second and the 5th/6th grade team placed fifth. The top two teams from each division and problem at state go on to World Odyssey of the Mind. The 5th/6th grade team's problem was Triathlon Travels. The students had to build a vehicle that someone could ride on and complete certain tasks. The 7th/8th grade team's problem was Animal House. The students had to build a balsa structure that would hold the team food as it supported weights. The teams and their coaches worked very hard on their problems. They spent many hours after school and on weekends preparing for the competition.

It Pays to be a Reader

On Wednesday, March 2, Sloan-Hendrix treated those Jr. High students who completed the reading challenge this year to a trip to Barnes and Noble bookstore in Jonesboro. Each student had to read a minimum of 13 books to qualify for the trip and had $20 to spend on reading material. Those who read more than the minimum had more to spend. The Sloan-Hendrix senior high students were treated to their day at Barnes and Noble on the previous Wednesday. Photo by Erin Smith.

FBLA Attends State Conference

On Monday, April 9, 2018, Sloan-Hendrix FBLA members attended the Arkansas FBLA State Leadership Conference in Little Rock. After registration, Perry Hutton and Hunter Stallings made their live presentation for the Broadcast Journalism event. Besides mingling with over 3,300 other FBLA members, students enjoyed workshops that included topics such as traits of successful people, how to get rich in college, and leading for success, to name a few.

Sloan-Hendrix students took time to tour the Old State House, Arkansas' first capitol building. Construction on the building began in 1833. In 1836, when Arkansas became a state, legislators began working from the still-unfinished building. This building served as the capitol until 1911, when the present capitol building was finished.

After an early supper at Fridays, members returned to Sloan-Hendrix.

FBLA members enjoy state conference.

Holding Up The Universe

A Book Review By Lilly Foley

I have just finished reading Holding up the Universe by Jennifer Niven. Holding up the Universe is a book about Libby Strout, a very large girl, who was housebound for a few years, and is now about to attend Martin Van Buren High. When she gets there, she gets bullied very badly, but she is a strong individual and stands up for herself in outstanding ways.

She meets Jack Masselin. He has a rare disorder called prosopagnosia, which means he is face-blind. Prosopagnosia is a real disorder that affects about 600,000 people. Nobody knows but Libby. Together they figure out how to live their complicated lives. I've only read one other book out of the nine books Jennifer Niven has published. She is best known for All the Bright Places.

In these two excerpts from the book, the author tells what is going on in Jack and Libby's life.

Jack: That's what it's like for me: I walk into a room and I do not know anyone. That's every room, everywhere. I get by on how a person walks. By gestures. By voice. By hair. I learn people by identifiers, because it's better not to be the freak. There's apart of me that hopes it isn't true. That maybe it'll clear up and go away on its own. For now, this is how I get by:

Nod/smile at everyone.

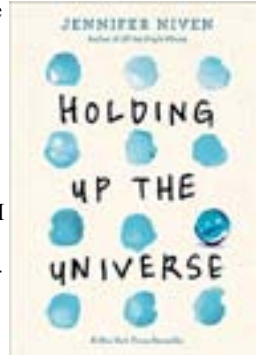

Be charming.

Be "on."

Pay attention.

Libby: If a genie popped out of my bedside lamp, I would wish for three things: my mom to be alive, nothing bad or sad to ever happen again, and to be a member of the Martin Van Buren High School Damsels, the best drill team in the tristate.

I recommend this book to anyone who is into complicated relationships and overcoming difficult situations. I enjoyed it because the story showed trials and outcomes.

G/T Service Project

During the school year, Sloan-Hendrix Gifted and Talented students participated in fundraisers to collect money for "wish list" items for Arkansas Children's Hospital. Students raised $1,122.89 through a cookbook project and blue jeans week for teachers. Students bought and packed 24 boxes with items for babies, teens, adults, and objects for therapy. They delivered the items to Arkansas Children's Hospital on May 15, 2018. This is the second year these students have been involved with this project. Students involved with the project include: Braden Cox, Harper Rorex, Cade Grisham, Carley Morgan, Chaney Johnson, Lily Morris, and Lakyn Phares. Not pictured: Dalton Cooper. Mrs. Melanie Stephens is the gifted and talented instructor.

The Dash by Linda Ellis

I read of a man who stood to speak at the funeral of a friend. He referred to the dates on the tombstone from the beginning...to the end.

He noted that first came the date of birth and spoke of the following date with tears, but he said what mattered most of all was the dash between those years.

For that dash represents all the time that they spent alive on earth. And now only those who loved them know what that little line is worth.

For it matters not, how much we own, the cars...the house...the cash. What matters is how we live and love and how we spend our dash.

So, think about this long and hard. Are there things you'd like to change? For you never know how much time is left that can still be rearranged.

If we could just slow down enough to consider what's true and real and always try to understand the way other people feel.

And be less quick to anger and show appreciation more and love the people in our lives like we've never loved before.

If we treat each other with respect and more often wear a smile, remembering that this special dash might only last a little while.

So, when your eulogy is being read, with your life's actions to rehash... would you be proud of the things they say about how you spent your dash?
